About Workhuman Live.

After nine years of pulling off the industry's most transformative conference, Workhuman Live knows what today's HR leaders are wrestling with.

Other events try to tackle every trending topic in the workplace in hopes of telling the audience exactly what they want to hear with buzzwords like burnout, engagement, and the future of work – words that are symptoms. To find solutions that deliver impact, Workhuman Live is focusing on the cause and teaching attendees how to do more with less.

What makes Workhuman Live different?
